I-64

Location:

Staunton to Charlottesville, US 29

Description:

As if you are looking down from an airplane, this byway whisks you over the Shenandoah Valley and spectacular mountain vistas. Anchored with a thick contingent of pine trees, the sea of green below is highlighted with white mountain laurel and fuschia rhododendron. Entrances to the Shenandoah National Park and the Skyline Drive are along this route. Bordering the drive through this panoramic scenery, are the pretty, historical cities of Staunton and Charlottesville.

Jefferson Highway (SR 22); Old Blue Ridge Turnpike (SR231)/Seminole Trail

Location:

SR 22/Shadwell to US 522/Sperryville

Description:

Cattle and horse farms populate the majority of the byway. Split-rail fencing defines property boundaries, surrounding the pastures like a frame. From mansions to small cottages, homes on this stretch reflect the wide variety of farming concerns. Tree-lined driveways seem to extend into infinity over the hilly terrain. Small woodlands are dotted throughout the farmlands. As you approach the active city of Charlottesville, be sure to take in Monticello, Jefferson's home.
